

PART A - $2 \times 3 = 6$

1. A computer network links devices to share data with each other.
2. An operating system manages hardware and software resources.
3. A compiler converts code into machine language.

PART B - $3 \times 5 = 15$

4. The internet is a global network of computers that share information using common protocols.

5. Cybersecurity protects systems and data from unauthorized access.

6. A DBMS stores and manages data efficiently and keeps it secure.

7. Cloud storage saves data on remote servers over the internet.

8. Software testing finds bugs in a program before it is released.